

Congratulations on purchasing a CODA system. We hope you have as much fun putting interesting pixels on your screens as we do at Cambridge Visual Networks!

You should already have been given a login to our website (<http://coda.camvine.com>) to get you started. If you need a reminder of this or you'd just like to drop us a line with comments, suggestions or anything else, you can catch us at coda@camvine.com. We'd love to hear from you.

We're sure you'd like to go ahead and set up your CODA system, but first here is the small print we need to tell you about your CODALink:

Waste equipment and recycling

Cambridge Visual Networks Ltd is fully compliant with the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Directive 2002/96/EC and 2003/108/EC. This means all our waste equipment is disposed of in an environmentally sound way, including the treatment, reuse, recovery and recycling of the components where appropriate. Econo-WEEE Ltd, an approved producer compliance scheme (registration WEE/XP3538PP/SCH), manages the collection and disposal of this equipment. Cambridge Visual Networks Ltd is not responsible for charges associated with the collection and disposal of our equipment.

We take our environmental responsibilities seriously. Our devices are fully RoHS-compliant and we've kept our packaging to a minimum and made it as reusable as possible.

Information to the user

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

Note: The manufacturer is not responsible for any radio or TV interference caused by unauthorized modifications to this equipment. Such modifications could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.
